The Probation Wife

She wanted to be a lady, wanted refinement and love, but the mistress of a low dive forced her to entertain the guests, and then—something happened that changed the whole world for Jo of the Domino!

Norma Talmadge's new characterization leaves you in wonder at the remarkable scope and grasp of this young woman. She portrays an inmate of a notorious cafe dive who is rescued from the mire by a blase, heart-sick and world-weary man-about-town. The climax is a most sensational one. A splendid cast assures you of a performance which will run smoothly.

"COMMON CLAY"

"For the Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Grady are Sisters Under the Skin."—Kipling

"COMMON CLAY"
is a gripping, sensational, interesting play of Modern Life, showing that all mankind is of one origin and that moral weakness is not the share of the poor and lowly alone. The dramatic story of a human woman—a thriller of the city life with a woman as the victim. It awakens in the breast of the spectator that pity which Dr. Gilbert Murray says "is the Kingdom of Heaven within us fighting against the brute power of the world."

"COMMON CLAY"
shows us a young girl's soul in the agonies of Golgotha—a girl handicapped by adverse circumstances—telling the inmost secret of a bitter experience and eventually finding a way to face life with renewed courage.

The Marriage Price

When this girl was down to her last dime Frederick Dalton lolled her to his loving heart, decked her with diamonds, and started a marriage courtship that would last as long as life itself. Two weeks later she packed her clothes and prepared to leave him. He had done nothing wrong—neither had she—yet she was through. She said she "had enough"—but before the night was half gone she placed her bridal jewels at his disposal—to do with as he wished. What a complete reversal of mind! Why? Fickle? Changeable? Cold? The greatest of all thrillers was never more compelling than in this great drama of red-blooded Americans. The story is one of great power and appeal. It grips and thrills as the characters begin to weave their web of love, hate, passion and rebellion, and does not end until the very last scene. Magnificent Alaska scenes are shown, with raging blizzards, chasms of ice and frozen rivers. Again Rex Beach does not star a player, preferring to use the best talent obtainable for a brilliant, perfectly balanced cast.

"THE BRAND"

1919 WAR SAVINGS POLICY MADE CLEAR

Appeal to Be Used and Question of Sales Made Clear by Mr. Braddock.

Two matters of policy in the 1919 War Savings campaign—the appeal to be used this year and the question of sales—have been made clear in a letter from Harold Braddock, Director of the Savings Division of the Treasury Department, who says:

". . . . . The primary purpose of the 1919 War Savings campaign is to make the habits of careful spending, intelligent saving and investment in small denomination government securities a permanent peacetime habit among the American people. We are therefore endeavoring to lay the foundation for a campaign which will not only last throughout 1919, but will result in continuing after 1919 the sale of small denomination government securities. This will have the advantage of making of permanent benefit to the American people the lessons of thrift and wise investment taught by the war.

"The War Savings campaign of 1919 was, of course, carried on primarily on the basis of a patriotic appeal of helping to win the war, and the citizens of the country responded generously from a desire to do their bit in helping the government in carrying on the war.

". . . . . It is our purpose to leave the war and patriotic appeals to the Liberty Loan and to conduct the savings campaign on the appeal of enlightened self-interest and the good citizenship which is involved in having citizens become security holders in their government.

"We believe that these two appeals will form the foundation of a permanent savings movement in this country, and that is what 1919 Savings campaign desires to establish, and to which it is devoting its principal efforts.

"We most decidedly desire to sell stamps this year if the sales campaign is accompanied by an educational campaign.

"We are opposed to the drives and forced sales of last year, together with the street selling and spectacular methods which were used in some parts of the country. We believe that these methods of sale would prove, in the long run, highly detrimental to a continued and permanent sale of these small government securities.

"We are, however, very anxious to promote the sale of War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps by any means which will lay the foundation for a permanent sale of these stamps or other small government securities, yet we do feel that the patriotic war appeal should be left to the short drive like the Liberty Loan campaign, and on account of the fact that it will grow smaller and smaller throughout the year it can well be eliminated from the savings campaign for this year."

THRIFT AND SUCCESS VIEWS OF FAMOUS MEN

No. 4

"Some of our greatest industrial organizations have learned their A-B-C's in waste elimination and have found themselves well repaid. The time is coming when every man who lays claim to business ability will keep the question of waste before him constantly.

"Waste is worse than loss. The time is coming when every person who lays claim to ability will keep the question of waste before him constantly. The scope of Thrift is limitless."—Thomas A. Edison.

THE LEOPARD AND HIS SPOTS

"Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots?" asked the prophet Jeremiah.

Some people seem to think the German leopard has an entirely new and spotless skin. He has, for the time being, at least kicked out his kaisers and his crown princes. He has put on the clothes of democracy. But people do not change their nature when they change their politics.

All parties in Germany united to give their approval to the course of the Kaiser's government. The Socialists in the main gave their hearty approval to the tearing up of the treaties guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium.

It will be remembered that the German government persuaded the Russians to disarm and go home, by promising them a peace "without annexations or indemnities". Then when they were helpless, it went in and proceeded to annex a large share of Russia and demanded and collected vast indemnities. The great majority of the Germans approved of this vile and infamous treachery.

The German troops participated quite generally in outrageous barbarities. The deportation of French and Belgian girls to work as slaves in Germany was one of the most terrible and infamous crimes in history. The German government gave its approval to the bloody massacre of 1,000,000 Armenians by the Turks. Little protest was ever made against it by the German people.

Since the revolution few Germans have shown any consciousness of wrong or repentance for these and other atrocious deeds. They threw down their autocracy because it was not an efficient instrument for the achievement of their national aims, not because it violated the laws of God and man.

So the people who place their trust in German professions and German democracy should cultivate a more sophisticated knowledge of the world and human nature.

We've Met the Lady.

A German novelist describes a lady who, where like some of us are not wholly unfamiliar. "One moment," he says, "you think you are great chums, and the next you wonder if you've ever seen her before."—Boston Transcript.

Railway for Gunpowder Only.

In one of the western states there is a little railway, the one purpose of which is to transport gunpowder from the magazines to the packing house. The two little cars, drawn by a real curiosity of an engine, are scarcely larger than delivery wagons.

Antiquity of Gloves.

Gloves are of great antiquity, having been worn in England as long ago as in Saxon times. Practically the only change which there has ever been in styles of gloves has been in their decoration. Sometimes they were richly adorned with jewels, £5 having been paid for a pair in the fourteenth century.

Told in a Few Words.

A Brunswick soldier, who was taken prisoner by Americans in the war, said: "Ah! America is a fine free country; it is worth people fighting for; I know the difference by knowing my own; in my country, if prince say, 'Eat straw,' we eat straw."—Thomas Paine.

X-Rays in Tuberculosis.

In the finished positive photographic print, the lungs of a normal person show white—this representing the air contained in the cells of the lungs. If the lung is diseased—as in pneumonia—it will show dark, i. e., the cells being occluded with matter. Tuberculosis is diagnosed by the spotted, mottled appearance of the affected lungs.

Plantfood in Soil.

A chemical analysis cannot show the amount of available plantfood in a soil. A chemist could, without difficulty, make an artificial soil containing every element of plantfood in abundance, and yet be perfectly sterile. Peat, for example, is usually very rich in nitrogen, but it is locked up or unavailable. To pulverize it and mix it with lime is to change it into a highly nutritious soil.

Wanted Full Particulars.

Before little Jill and his mother reached auntie's home he was cautioned to be on his good behavior and to be nice to "mother's friends." But he was such a little boy to be good all the time, and a few hours after his arrival he apparently sized up the situation and asked, "Well, who else do I have to be nice to besides mother's friends, and Aunt Mary's friends, and Aunt Margaret's friends?"

Frogs as Wasp Eaters.

The common green frog has been discovered to possess an insatiate greed for wasps. This extraordinary appetite does not seem to be in the least checked by an occasional sting. The protecting color of the frog, which sits motionless upon leaves, no doubt deludes the most wary of insects into a sense of security.—Nyack Evening Journal.

WHY YOUR MONEY IS NEEDED—HOW IT HELPS

This Brief Questionnaire Gives Interesting Information on the Victory Liberty Loan.

The government already is exploiting the Victory Liberty Loan, which will be floated in April, in order that the people may start saving for the purpose of investing in bonds of the "Victory issue." The following brief questionnaire should tend to clarify the mind of any reader regarding the Victory Loan:

Q. The war being over, why is there need of another great popular war loan?

A. The proceeds from the Fourth loan, according to Secretary of the Treasury Glass, were exhausted last December, and the government must have billions more with which to maintain our forces overseas, bring the victors home and carry out its reconstruction plans.

Q. If Uncle Sam's strong-box is empty, how is he paying his after-war expenses?

A. This is being done with money borrowed from the banks at the rate of $600,000,000 every two weeks, short-term anticipation certificates of indebtedness being issued in return.

Q. As long as the banks are advancing the money, why not let them continue to do so?

A. Because in order to continue to extend credit to the business interests big and little of the country the banks must get back this money—amounting to 20 per cent of their entire resources—when it falls due, as only thus can the prosperity we now enjoy be continued.

Q. Will the Victory Loan be offered to the people on a commercial basis, or will their patriotism again be appealed to?

A. Secretary Glass says the patriotism of the American people will be relied upon to send the loan triumphantly "over the top." It, however, will be made particularly attractive as to rate of interest and period of maturity.

Q. What are the monthly war expenditures of the government at the present time?

A. The latest official figures show that Uncle Sam is expending money at the rate of more than $2,000,000,000 a month.

Q. Suppose I bought bonds of preceding issues and feel I can't afford to buy any more Liberty bonds?

A. Uncle Sam has to pay his bills, and you must afford it, even if you have to continue for a further time denying yourself luxuries and apparent necessities. Unless the Victory Liberty Loan is a success the government will be compelled to raise the money it needs by direct taxation, and there are no interest coupons on tax receipts.

AMERICAN PEOPLE READY TO COMPLETE THE JOB

Victory Liberty Loan Must Succeed to a Degree in Keeping With Success of Former Loans.

By CHARLES H. SCHWEPPE, Director of Victory Liberty Loan Campaign, Seventh Federal Reserve District.

Despite the fact that hostilities have ceased and preliminary steps to the signing of a peace treaty been taken, our big war job is not finished. The job will not be completed until the war bills are paid and the slate of the nation is clean. Those of us who remained on this side of the water still have work to do to polish off the great victory won by our soldiers and sailors, and the work before us is as patriotic and essential as that already accomplished.

The Victory Liberty Loan must succeed to a degree in keeping with the success of the four previous loans. This success can be attained only through the efforts and enthusiasm of the entire people. Liberty Loan organizations must put into their efforts the same vim and fire that characterized their work in the previous loans. The people must do everything within their power to aid the organizations in performing the task that is as much theirs as in the time when the nation was warring.

The spirit of thanksgiving should permeate the American atmosphere—should dominate the heart of every citizen, for if it had not been for the extensive preparation to fight the central powers until victory perched upon our banner the war would have been prolonged indefinitely, with a consequent loss of thousands of lives that otherwise were saved to us when the German general staff acknowledged the futility of continuing the struggle for world domination. The great victory was achieved very largely through the shells that were never exploded, through the soldiers that did not go across, and through the general preparations in other directions. The American people can give expression to their thanksgiving by subscribing to the limit of their ability in making the Victory Liberty Loan an overwhelming success.

The fullness of the great victory will not be realized until the war bills are paid and all the boys brought home. The expenses of the war have been huge, but America set out to win the war at any cost, and now, with victory secure, the American people stand ready to complete the job assigned to them—providing the money necessary to win the victory.

——HELP "FINISH THE JOB."——

The King Got His.

Solomon, a London musician, had as pupil King George II. One day, when the king had not distinguished himself by great practice or skill in playing, the teacher gave him the following classification of fiddlers. "Fiddlers, your majesty, may be divided into three classes: To the first belong those who cannot play at all; to the second those who play badly; and to the third those who play well. You, sire, have already reached the second class."

A Nap on a 40-Mile Wind.

It was not so long ago that a ten-mile breeze would upset all flying plans for a day at any airdrome or exhibition field. Now nothing short of a hurricane can keep the machines on the ground. As far as the ability to make good weather of it is concerned the airman of today can laugh at a gale and fairly take a nap sitting on a 40-mile wind.—William A. Bishop, V. C., S. O., M. C., in Saturday Evening Post.

M. E. QUIRK SAILS TOMORROW

Refused Entrance to Ireland Last Month — Passport Just Given Official Visa by British Consul-General Nugent at Chicago—Will Visit Old Home in County Carlow.

It will be pleasing news for the friends of M. E. Quirk, the real estate man at 7900 South State St. to learn that the British Consul-General at Chicago, Hon. H. D. Nugent, has placed his visa upon Mr. Quirk's passport, and that he will be able to sail tomorrow upon the White Star liner, "Baltic" from New York City.

Mr. Quirk early in February had obtained a passport from the State Department at Washington and had purchased his steamer ticket to sail upon the "Adriatic", another White Star boat. Just before leaving for New York to embark, he was notified through the British Consul-General's office here, that the British Military office, located in New York City, had refused to visa his passport. This action it has now countermanded, following a close inquiry into Mr. Quirk's character and business standing. It is of course plain that the previous refusal to visa his passport was the direct result of the present unsettled political conditions in Ireland.

Mr. Quirk goes to settle the estate of his mother, who died at County Carlow, Ireland, last October. He will return in the latter part of May to take a leading part in the approaching revival of activity in local real estate, following the end of the war.

BASKETBALL TEAM'S "SPREAD"

The Girls' Basketball Team of Calumet High School entertained a number of the other Calumet girls who have played basketball with them, at a spread, Friday, March 21st. First they played a short game of basketball, and then the losing side entertained the winners with jokes, tricks and dances. At last the "eats" appeared, and all had all they could eat. The team presented Miss Valentine, their instructor, with a silver whistle on a black silk ribbon. Those present were:

Cheese Easily Digested.

Contrary to opinion held by many people, cheddar or "store" cheese is not unusually indigestible or constipating. Extensive digestion experiments conducted by the department of agriculture have demonstrated that more than 95 per cent of the protein in cheese is digested and that 90 per cent of its energy is available. One person who ate cheese as the chief source of protein and energy, eating an average of 9.27 ounces daily for more than two years, did a fair amount of muscular work and remained in good health.

The Social Fabric.

To uphold the social system women submit to uncounted tests of their constancy. They endure physical discomfort, ennui, the peril of cold drafts and damp places, hours of weariness and moments of acute annoyance for the sake of what, to a man, is an unimportant social matter. And even though at times she feels that it would matter little if the whole social scheme of things should perish—and that instantly with fire and bloodshed if need be—rather than require so much of her, she stands to her colors.

Highland Proclamation.

The following is a proclamation said to have been once issued at Kenmore: "A ane time, ho yes! an' a twa time, ho yes! and a tree time, ho yes! Te a' them wha ha' gotten the spoke (English), no persons, at no time after nor prefore, will pu' peats nor howk heather on my Lord Preatalappin's moss, or my lordship to pe surely will prought them perfore her to be peheatet, and syne hangt; and gin she'll come back till pe waur done till her nor a' tat."

Hadn't Quite Understood.

Much amusement was created in a Melbourne (Australia) criminal court recently when a slightly deaf juror was being sworn. The judge repeated to him the words, "I swear by Almighty God so to do." Whereon the juryman declared, "I swear by Almighty God I'm sorry for you!"

Health and Wealth.

The dollar mark is a sign of wealth, but not health. Health without wealth is better than wealth without health. It is possible for a man to have both.

Try to Be Agreeable.

We should wisely cultivate the art of being agreeable, not only in the company of our business associates or those persons whom we meet socially but in our own homes as well. By thus deporting ourselves we shall find life more pleasant and people in general—the home folks in particular—more considerate. On the other hand, if we continue to think only of ourselves we shall find life a trying affair.—Exchange.

Hughes—Yuzovka.

The first successful iron and steel mill in southern Russia having been established forty years ago by a man named Hughes, one of the largest steel centers in Ukrainia bears the name Yuzovka—in his honor.—Gas Logic.

Optimistic Thought.

If illness has its trials it also has its blessings.

Miss Alice O'Day, 8409 Green street, entertained twenty of her young school friends at a birthday party given at her home on March 17th.

Environment Counts.

It is well to remember that environment has much to do with achievement. Associate only with those who are full of enthusiasm and determined to succeed. Keep close to people who encourage you. Create peace in the home. Make of it a harbor of refuge, a means of escape from a work-a-day world. If you will do this, you will soon find yourself well on the road to success.—Fern Howard.

Flower Friends.

Flowers cost so little and they mean so much. We need not go to fashionable florists for our messengers. One rose bought from a tray on the street may mean more than the handsomest design on Fifth avenue. It is these little things, these beautiful personal expressions, that make our flowers worth while. But they must have a message or they cannot deliver it. Remember that.—New York Telegram.

The house was appropriately decorated. An elaborate luncheon was served. Many interesting games were played, and prizes given to the winners.
